Opening message

This is the space where Pavla Tichá, the founder and chair of Amelie, used to address the readers of the Annual report. Her opening messages pointed out the obstacles and challenges facing Amelie, expressed her joy over our successes and her best wishes for the future. Unfortunately, at the beginning of September 2014 Pavla has left us forever. We are left here with our grief over her death, and also with the commitment to continue and make her vision come true.

Sadly, Pavla's death was preceded by the other founder and expert guarantor MUDr. Henrieta Tondlová, who also succumbed to her serious illness. Her death was a great loss to me personally as Dr. Tondlová was my dear friend, in addition to her role of my teacher and guide in the field of psycho-oncology, her lifelong interest.

What I consider important, in my point of view and from the perspective of Amelie, is the fact that we were not immobilized by the loss in our operation and decision making. We managed to successfully implement and complete all projects that we had committed ourselves to undertake, thanks to mobilisation of our strength and extraordinary efforts of all parties involved. Amelie went on providing its range of services and even continued to expand (another Centre is about to open in Liberec). I would like to express my gratitude to all those who helped us overcome difficult times: thank you for sharing our grief and for your encouragement and support. A sincere appreciation goes to those who were willing to carry on their shoulders the responsibility for Amelie and its operation, in particular to Michaela Čadková Svejková and Mgr. Šárka Slavíková, without whose tireless efforts Amelie could not have been in its present shape. Also the members of the association have considerably helped stabilise the situation.

I am convinced that the difficult period will prove to be a valuable experience that can be used in our future work with our clients and expert public as well as a strengthening personal experience.

As I am writing these lines, I can feel that Amelie has renewed its strength and desire to work, create and continue. While the legacy of our founders will live on, there is a space for new and fresh perspectives. I do hope that we will not disappoint Pavla and Henrieta watching us from somewhere above.

The year 2014 saw new development of our activities but also some major changes in the organisation and the Amelie team. Two of the three founding members of Amelie – Henrieta Tondlová and Pavla Tichá – died shortly after each other. This sad loss and the fact that some of our team members went on maternity leave had led to major changes in personnel and organisational structure of Amelie.

Despite all the changes, Amelie continues to focus on its objectives and to implement its mission and vision.

Our vision: the situation in which cancer is being considered simply a part of life.

The mission of Amelie remains the same: we help people live with cancer. We provide our support actively and to those who need and want it.

Our goal is to establish at least one Amelie Centre in each region and thus offer a range of individual and group activities for the clients and at the same time support voluntary involvement.

Our values: partnership, trust and expertise.

Amelie actively seeks partnership and cooperation with hospitals, patient organisations, experts and lay people. Among our closest partners are the Teaching Hospitals in Prague and Olomouc, the hospitals in Rakovník and Příbram and the Na Pleši and Na Bulovce Hospitals. Amelie is also a member of NRZP, SKOK, UNO and the League Against Cancer. In 2014 Amelie successfully passed various audits, namely the audit of grant management by the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs (project “Return to work after cancer treatment” and the accredited educational programmes), the audit by the Ministry of Culture (project “Art therapy for cancer patients as a supportive and self-fulfilment tool”), the audit by the Prague 10 Municipal District (project “Amelie Centre in Prague – social services and participatory activities for cancer patients and their loved ones), and the audit by the Office of the Government of the Czech Republic (three projects). There were also audits by VZP and the Prague Social Security Administration verifying that Amelie meets requirements and payments of social security contributions.

Amelie, o.s.

After the death of our chair Pavla Tichá, the association approved changes in the Executive Committee at the annual meeting held in September 2014. The Executive Committee then appointed its new chair and statutory representative. At present the Amelie executive bodies are as follows:

Executive Committee:

Chair of the Committee and statutory body: MUDr. Michaela Chrdlová

Committee members: Václav Špáňa, Zdeňka Kuhnová, Gabriela Böhmová, Eva Adamcová

Audit Committee:

Chair: MUDr. Alexandra Aschermannová

Members: Jindra Zemanová, Tomáš Ctibor

The association has 13 members, the majority of them with disabilities. Therefore Amelie retains its status of an organisation of disabled people.

Financial information

Our aim is to use various sources of finance for Amelie activities. To this end, we have established the Social Enterprise, and we develop our public fund-raising activities and projects that enhance communication with potential donors. The Tulip Month project that addresses the general public in Prague is one of our most visible activities but there are others, such as traditional charity concerts in Olomouc, cultural events and meetings "Iva and her friends" in Rakovník, and also other smaller activities organised in various locations where they draw attention to Amelie and introduce our range of services to clients as well as to potential donors or partners. Such activities are implemented by the Amelie Centres.

Practical working experience for people under 30 in Prague

Starting from February 2014, Amelie has been participating in the project CZ.1.04/2.1.00/70.00061 "Practical working experience for people under 30 in Prague". Two job positions were financially supported (CZK 575,664) within the project: fundraising and communication assistant and assistant finance/personnel manager. Amelie was thus able to provide two young people with valuable practical working experience, in return gaining motivated and helpful team members who did a good job. Thank you.

Our sincere gratitude to all those who helped in bringing the Amelie mission to life in 2014. It is because of you that Amelie can continue helping people live with cancer.

Projects implemented in 2014

Amelie Centres and help line

Amelie has been established with the aim of supporting cancer patients and their loved ones by offering a comprehensive programme of professional help, which is easily available and tailored to individual needs. Following the example of the extent of psycho-social support as it is provided in many developed countries, our services include psychological help; social counselling; activities focused on helping clients to manage the stress and come to terms with their illness, the treatment and its effects; information services and sharing. All our activities are designed to support and supplement the medical treatment in a way that is most beneficial not only to the cancer patients and their loved ones but also to the society as a whole. The Centres play a key role in offering the necessary support. In the locations where there is no Amelie Centre available, the Amelie help line may substitute its services, to a limited extent.

In 2014 Amelie offered its range of psycho-social support services in four Amelie Centres (Olomouc, Prague, Rakovník and Příbram) and also via telephone or e-mail through the Amelie help line. In total, there were 1,877 contacts with cancer patients or their relatives, including participation in individual or group activities. We provided information, counselling (including registered social services, family counselling, support for couples and counselling for men), support in situations of change, stress relief and prevention, self-development and participatory activities organised to suit the specific needs and related restraints of oncology patients. In particular our services provided to clients included art therapy, relaxation and breathing exercises, basic and professional social counselling – but also an opportunity to relax in an informal environment, enjoy a cup of tea or coffee and talk to other people.

Total number of contacts with clients	1,877
Individual consultations	568
Amelie help line contacts	121
Group activities	1,245
of which using social services	394
New clients	276

In addition to the above-mentioned activities, the Centres organised 2 rehabilitation programmes, 5 cultural events and 2 other projects – Theme Months and After Diagnosis.

The Centre also organised group activities, including art therapy, various participatory and relaxation activities or support group meetings. A counselling service for men (led by a male psychologist) was available every second Friday between 15:00 – 16:00.

Theme Months in the Amelie Centre in Prague

In addition to our regular programme, a new project was implemented in 2014, focusing on prevention and everyday life with cancer. Each month we chose one type of cancer and a programme of lectures, discussions and workshops was prepared to explain the specific problems and limitations related to such illness and also to present various options of medical help and available support. On the Amelie website, a special section was created for each diagnosis, containing links to information about available treatment and contacts to organisations offering help and support. In total, the Centre organised 31 events, in which 178 people participated and 24 lecturers presented (excluding the Amelie employees). The website has registered 4035 visitors and continues to offer information to all those who need it.

Special one-off events organised by the Amelie Centre in Prague in 2014:

Doors Open Day

The Centre was opened for visitors to experience some of the activities offered by Amelie and to meet our team. At the same time, the Day presented an opportunity for the students of social and psychology programmes to get information or arrange the possibility of getting practical experience.

This event was held in June and provided general public with the opportunity to learn about Amelie and its offer of services, to support our activities and to celebrate our success in an opinion poll where we were ranked as "The best in Prague 8". Home-made cakes were prepared and people could buy some handmade products.

A gathering for our clients, volunteers, employees and supporters of Amelie was held in December. The participants had the chance to taste home-made Christmas cookies and punch as well as join in singing the Christmas carols or in creating the painting designed to enliven the premises of oncology ward in the Bulovka hospital.

Training the volunteers

Building on the uniqueness of our volunteer programme, Amelie has been organising its own training of volunteers since 2008, in a form of 3-day courses that focus on the specific requirements of oncological patients. The other unique feature of our training programme is the fact that the courses and participation in our volunteer programme are open to people who went through cancer treatment themselves. Amelie places great emphasis on thorough preparation and keeps enhancing the skills of the team of specialists in the field of oncology and volunteering. Thanks to our professional trainers, the participants of our courses have an opportunity to ask specific questions while visiting the hospitals and oncology wards. The training courses are held in the hospitals Na Pleši and in Olomouc.

Contacts with patients	446

The following one-off events or regular activities were organised within the Olomouc volunteer programme in 2014:

Creative workshops

The volunteers organised regular creative workshops for the patients, with themes related to different seasons or holidays. The patients thus had an opportunity to learn various crafting techniques as well as fill the time they had to spend in the hospital, talk to other people and share their experiences.

St Nicholas Day and Advent activities

In 2014 our volunteers again brought the Advent atmosphere to the Oncology Department of Olomouc Teaching Hospital. There were creative activities, carols singing and also the traditional St Nicholas visit bringing gifts to the patients. Such events are hugely appreciated as they help break the stereotype of the hospital life.

Amelie volunteer programme in Prague

In 2014 Amelie volunteers paid regular visits to the inpatient ward of the oncology department and the outpatient hemato-oncology department of the 1st internal clinic of VFN in Prague. Starting from May, the volunteer programme has been extended to the inpatient ward of the gynecology department. The volunteers went through regular supervisory sessions where they shared their practical experiences and discussed them with an expert supervisor. During the year, 5 such supervisory sessions were held. All volunteers also had a chance to meet their colleagues at the meeting organised by their coordinator in June and then again at the gathering organised by the VFN in Prague.

In addition to regular activities our volunteers helped prepare and implement the following events and projects:

Tulip month

The volunteers were helping in various phases of the project – during visits to oncology departments with the “Health Clowns”, in installing decorations made by the pupils of elementary schools, and in organisation of activities and lectures in the Amelie Centre in Prague.

Creative activities

In 2014, our volunteers started to organise various creative activities for the patients at the oncology departments. In particular, craft workshops where volunteers and patients work together were held, providing the patients with an opportunity to learn a new skill and focus on something positive.

Voluntary help and support to Amelie

The volunteers helped in public fund-raising (sale of little yellow flowers within the campaign of the League Against Cancer) and supported Amelie by their attendance at the Amelie exhibition stand during the NGO Market. They also help fulfil some administrative tasks in the Amelie Centre in Prague.

Amelie volunteer programme in Central Bohemia

The volunteers paid regular visits to the patients at two departments of the Na Pleši Hospital (formerly IOR Na Pleši). Their visits make the patients' stay in a hospital more pleasant. The volunteers talk to people in the inpatient wards, read to them or accompany them for a walk in the park. Our volunteer programme in 2014 included also regular visits to the unit of palliative care and support to people in terminal stages of cancer. For this, we need highly experienced volunteers and it is necessary to support such people. Therefore we provided them with individual supervision in addition to group supervisory sessions. In most cases, the visits require a long distance commute to the hospital, which means that our volunteers invest more than their enthusiasm and time. We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to them.

The year 2014 saw an introduction of the new successful programme of group activities in the Na Pleši Hospital. There were art, literary and musical events, as well as Christmas creative workshops organised by the volunteers, which resulted in creation of Christmas cards and in decoration of the hospital premises.

Returning to work after cancer

PODPORUJEME
VAŠI BUDOUCNOST
www.esfcr.cz

The 2-year project entitled “Return to work after cancer treatment” was launched by Amelie, o.s. in April 2013, as the first project of its sort in the Czech Republic aiming to help people of working age living in the Central Bohemia region who underwent cancer treatment, receive disability pension and have problems finding a job. The project (registration number CZ.1.04/3.3.05/96.00192) was financed by the European Social Fund - Operational Programme Human Resources and Employment and by the state budget of the Czech Republic and its main part was implemented throughout the year 2014.

The aim of the project was to help people suffering from cancer find suitable jobs, with regard to their preferences as well as limitations related to their illness. In addition to job counselling, coaching, lectures on labour law and social issues, the project activities included also simulated interview process and practical help in obtaining a job. The clients had at their disposal a 4-member team (social worker, psychologist, job counsellor and project coordinator).

	Number of participants	Number of contacts
Total number of clients participating in the project	144	1488
in group activities	61	1059
in individual contact	61	307
in mediated contact	83	122

Within the framework of this project, the Job Opportunities Fair for People after Cancer Treatment was organised in August 2014. Besides the representatives of 15 employers who offered job opportunities for people with disabilities there were counsellors providing psychological, social and legal advice and also a panel discussion on employment of cancer patients. The event met with very positive response.

Social enterprise – Accredited professional education

Amelie Social Enterprise is a project that we started to implement in the middle of 2012. It is focused on accredited education of professional and general public and in a long term it aims to help finance operating costs of Amelie and its non-profit activities. The project is fully in accordance with the mission and objectives of Amelie which include educational activities in the fields of psycho-oncology and psychosocial support for cancer patients and their loved ones.

Four educational events were organised within the project framework in 2014 with 25 social and healthcare professionals attending. We obtained the accreditation for our Volunteer programme in oncology departments and hospice care for social workers and providers of social services. Amelie also underwent its first audit by the accreditation committee of the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs. The committee verified Amelie as an educational institution with satisfactory premises and equipment for education and stated that the implementation of our 8 educational programmes meet the requirements.

Reprint of the information booklet “Psycho-social minimum for cancer patients and their loved ones”

A grant received in 2014 enabled us to review and reprint our information booklet. We printed 5,400 copies which were distributed to 35 locations. The booklet is also available online, on the Amelie website, where you can download the entire publication (free of charge) or individual chapters. The booklet contains brief case studies, relevant information concerning social and psychological issues, contacts to available services, links to recommended literature etc.

Quotation from the reactions from readers:

"I would like to commend you for your booklet "Psycho-social minimum for cancer patients and their loved ones" and at the same time ask for additional copies to be sent to our address if it is possible and if you have sufficient amount of copies.

Best wishes,

Alena Votavová

Tulip month 2014

The second Tulip month was held in March 2014 with the aim to bring optimism and hope to oncology departments, support the patients and express appreciation to healthcare professionals for their work. The Amelie volunteers together with Clowns for Health paid visits to various oncology departments, bringing joy and information to approximately 150 patients.

The teachers and pupils from ten schools in Prague 8 and Prague 1 were involved in the project, creating pictures with tulip motif for decoration of oncology clinics and for the exhibition installed in the KusKovu Gallery between 3 – 14 March.

There were various ways to support Amelie – by participating in the auction of the pictures or by buying bouquets prepared by Gerbera flower shop (with 50% of the price being donated to Amelie). Other NGOs, sheltered workshops and citizens from Prague 8 supported Amelie by donating various beautiful or practical objects with tulip motif for the auction sale. The total proceeds from the project reached CZK 48,015.

By organising the Tulip month, we also try to raise awareness of the often neglected aspects of life with cancer and problems that cancer patients and their loved ones have to face. A thousand of leaflets were distributed and the issue was presented in a number of newspaper and media programmes (e.g. TV Metropol, TV Praha 8, MF Dnes, Pražský deník).

Naše aktivity nabízíme i těm, kteří se nemocí „jen“ obávají. Nemocnému či nemocí nepřímo zasaženému člověku se věnují odborníci i laici a dobrovolníci v prostorách, které má Amelie o. s. K tomuto účelu pronajaté, v nemocnicích či jinde. Vytvářejí prostředí a podmínky, ve kterých se každý může věnovat sám sobě způsobem, který si zvolí.
