

challenge is the new normal

11.2. 2021
10:00 - 12:30
online event (Zoom)

Programme

10.00–10.10 Welcome + Warm-Up - Zuzana Schreiberová, Simone Baglioni

10.10–10.20 Greetings: Anna Dumont - Head of Labour Market Integration Departement, The Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs of Czech Republic

10.20–10.50 Tomáš Erwin Dombrovský – Labor Market Data Analyst, LMC, Czech Republic

What can numbers and statistics tell us about labour market transformation? What are the effects of the coronavirus pandemic? What could be a suitable recommendation to deal with this situation?

10.50–11.20 Karel Čada, Olga Gheorgiev, Sirius project research team, Czech Republic

The presentation provides an overview of the key findings of the SIRIUS project in the Czech Republic. We then move on to discuss the difficulties faced by migrants, refugees and asylum seekers during the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 as well as their response to the pandemic.

11.20–11.40 Valery Senichev – Psychologist and a Career Consultant at Educamp.cz, Czech Republic

The presentation provides an overview of the Talent Studio project in the Czech Republic. Could such projects enrich the NGOs internally? Could it be a useful platform for specific groups of clients? Several impacts on cooperation with companies and other NGOs will be mentioned. At the end of the presentation some critical points and lessons learned will be discussed.

11.40–12.00 Hrishabh Sandilya – Co-founder and Head, Phoenix Project, Cyprus

We will focus on how the changes Covid has foisted upon Europe will require new approaches to migrant inclusion and social innovation. The best way forward may be to do this based on the experience of the Phoenix Project team.

12.00–12.15 Dagmar Čisářovská – Communication Manager, ExxonMobil

85 nationalities work together in the Prague branch of Exxonmobil. What adaptation and integration services are available to facilitate their start in a new country? How is inclusion and diversity supported?
