

TRANSEUROPA FESTIVAL IN PRAGUE

Wednesday 9th May

H 16-20

Tram 22

Transnational Walk

A Walk around Prague along the Tram 22 route where you will a.o. listen to migrants' stories, think about Prague's markets, and reflect the work of young European artists inspired by the topic "Migration to Europe: Can it work for development?"

Thursday 10th May

H 18-20

Topic Gallery, Narodni 9, Prague 1

The Czech republic on a Transeuropean path?

A panel discussion on the future of the Czech republic in Europe, in particular as regards migration, new forms of political mobilisation, and alternatives to austerity, moderated by Dr Martin Jan Stranský. Official launching of the Essay competition!

Friday 11th May

H 18-20

Cinema Světozor, Vodičkova 791/41, Prague 1

Histoire(s) – Carte Blanche à la Cinémathèque de Tanger

A movies screening and a discussion on contemporary Arab world and every day life in Arabic societies with Šadi Shaanah, (Czech-Arab Centre for Cultural Dialogue), Marek Cejka (Masaryk University Brno), Pavel Barša (Charles' University Prague)

Friday 11th May

H 20.30

Restaurace Square, Budečská, Prague 2

Balkan Ethno Evening

Degustation of traditional home made balkan food and wine (to pay, but cheap and excellent), in a Balkanic and Mediteranean atmosphere with ethno live music (Croatian, Macedonian, Albanian, Serbian, Greek, Bulgarian, Turkish, Arabic, and Roma music).

Saturday 12th May

H 13-18

Divus, Bubenská 1, Prague 7

Forum Alternative

A forum gathering Czech and foreign NGOs looking for creative and innovative solutions to the current economic crisis and to sustainable development in their respective countries.

Saturday 12th May

H 21

Final Club, Příběnická 8/977, Praha 3 - Žižkov

Balkan Party

A Transeuropa party, with Dj's Stanko Melodič and Guma Gumovič.

Sunday 13th May

H 15-19

Letná park, Metronom

Art as politicum

Is art trapped in the "beautiful garden of aesthetics" or is it actually capable of inspiring real change, in social or political terms? An interactive presentation and a workshop with contemporary Czech artists using art as a public statement.